Yacht Club Combining Social and Features of a Full Fledged Athletic Organization—Personnel of Executive Force and of Special Committees for This Evening.

The doors of the Bay-Waveland Yacht and Athletic Club, of Bay St. Louis, will be formally opened to-night and the club launched upon its active career as a going concern. This event will be marked with a reception and dance given at the beautiful and spacious new club building, corner Front and Washington streets, and so auspicious an occasion will be marked by a gathering of a large and representative body of ladies and gentlemen not only from Bay St. Louis and Waveland, but from New Orleans and from along the Gulf Coast.

The local community is on tip-toe of anticipation, and from the nature of arrangements for the event no one needs to be disappointed. The entrance is by membership card and special cards for guests, after the names of the latter have been sent in and passed on by a special committee for the purpose. There will be no promiscuous guests. However, the number of attendants for tonight is large.

A special augmented band will disburse the numbers, for the dance, and souvenir programs have been prepared for the ladies. Refreshments will be served throughout the evening with the compliments of the club. No children will be admitted tonight. The Echo has been requested to incidentally mention this as a matter of information. Juvenile members and their guests from 15 years up are welcomed.

The matter of dress has caused some comment in some quarters, but this subject is optional. There was only a request made that the gentlemen who would might wear a uniform attire.

LOCAL PASTOR IS HOST TO BOYS AT PICNIC.

Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch Entertained Some Thirty-odd Members of the Sanctuary Society at All-Day Picnic Thursday—At the Mauffray Farm, on Bayou Laterre, A'ove Fenton.

Who ever forgets the pleasures of a picnic in spring? Surely the thirty-odd boys who enjoyed the hospitality of Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, near Fenton, Thursday, never will. For it is recorded they had one wonderful time!

As is his usual custom, the ever thoughtful and generous pastor entertains the members of the Sanctuary Society, which embraces the churches of Our Lady of the Gulf, St. Joseph's and St. Henry's. The membership of the society is composed of the boys who faithfully serve on the altar during the celebration of masses every morning during the year. Regardless of the weather, these little soldiers of Christ are unfailingly present at their duties, and the outing is a recognition by the pastor of this devotion to the church and to duty.

The party left early during the morning hours of Thursday and by truck the trip to the Mauffray homestead, on Bayou Laterre, slightly above Fenton, was made. Automobiles that accompanied the party of picnicers were Mr. J. A. Mauffray's, Mr. A. Scaffidi's and Father Gmelch's.

There were by actual count thirty-three altar boys. They were in charge of good Bro. Louis and Bro. Lawrence, from St. Stanislaus. The two brothers were the executives in charge, but they wish it stated that their success was due largely to Jos. O. Mauffray, who was most active all the time in the interest of the arrangements and the pleasure of the boys. The additional guests were Revs. Fathers Paul, Hike and Dennis. The local press was specially invited, but picnics and other good times were not invented for the poor overworked newspaper men. However, we are appreciative and thankful for the invitation just the same. The boys enjoyed bathing, wading, playing baseball and other games, to say nothing of the eats. And lemonade—there was a barrel of it. It was Bro. Louis' brew. The more you drank of it, the better you enjoyed yourself. Bro. Lawrence was umpire of the baseball games, a thankful job, which he does par excellence and to the satisfaction of both sides—if this be possible.

The boys who enjoyed this particular never-to-be-forgotten picnic were the following named:

GOOD WORK OF PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION

Auxiliary Organization of Parent-Teacher Association a Factor for Results—Under Leadership of Mrs. Rita L. Breath and Mrs. E. J. Gex Telling Results Acquired—Outlook for Next Year Encouraging.

During the present session the Parent-Teacher Association of the public schools has strongly backed the teachers in every effort to improve the schools and to secure the co-operation of the patrons. The P. T. A. not only helped with the everyday routine of the school, but on every occasion furnished means and influence to help school undertakings. The organization, through its president, Mrs. Rita L. Breath, contributed largely to the splendid showing Bay St. Louis made at the county fair meet at Kiln, by providing transportation for the numerous contestants. The Parent-Teachers Association also furnished entertainment for the county teachers while in session here at the county teachers' meeting.

The Parent-Teachers Association raised $74.50 on membership dues during the session; $29.87 was raised by selling refreshments at the municipal election and at a minstrel show; $14.40 was raised on an Easter egg hunt given by the association; $12.96 was contributed by the teachers to complete payment for maps ordered for the school.

The money collected by the P. T. A. was expended as follows: For transportation to county field meet, $6.00; entertainment of county teachers, $5.26; fifty song books for school, $7.58; library of Southern literature, $65.00; floral designs, etc., for the funeral of Horace Smith, $13.90; seven large wall maps and express on same, $33.99.

In addition to the above-mentioned amounts the Parent-Teachers Association raised $4.50 to cover a deficit brought forward from last session.

The association also raised and expended $79.30 for a Christmas entertainment for the school children. The tree and good things were greatly enjoyed by all of the pupils and every one felt that the undertaking was a marked success.

The presence and backing of the Parent-Teacher Society meant a great deal toward the success of the year's school work. Next session we hope that this organization may be even more efficient and more highly co-operative than during this session.

T. WEBB R. WILSON IS CANDIDATE, SIXTH CONGRESSIONAL DIST.

WILL VISIT EVERY NOOK AND CORNER OF DISTRICT.

Says Taxes Must Be Lowered—The Ports on the Mississippi Coast Must Be Preserved and Maintained—Says the American Boy Who Fought in the Late War Must Be Given a "Square Deal."

T. Webber Wilson, well known county attorney of Jones county, and more recently district attorney for the Twelfth Judicial District, and residing at Laurel, is formally announced in this issue of The Echo as a candidate for Congress, to succeed Hon. Paul B. Johnson, who is not a candidate for re-election, but will probably run for governor.

Mr. Wilson is well known over the district, representing South Mississippi. During the fall he attended the Hancock County Fair and delivered one of the addresses. He widened his acquaintance by this visit and made a splendid impression. He is capable and alive to the very best interests of the district and its people. Should he be elected, it is safe to say he will safeguard these in a manner of value and benefit.

In a statement to The Echo Mr. Wilson says:

"I am a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District. I announce my candidacy fully conscious of the responsibilities devolving upon the shoulders of those honored with this high office. I am a native Mississippian and was privileged to receive my education in the schools of my native State, finishing at the University of Mississippi. I have been a citizen of Laurel, Miss., since soon after I began the practice of law. I ran for county attorney of Jones county in 1915 and was elected over two opponents in the first primary with a majority of over six hundred votes. I ran for district attorney of the Twelfth Judicial District in 1919 and was opposed for that responsible office by two distinguished gentlemen, and my people were good enough to elect me over these two men in the first primary with a majority of over one thousand votes. I think every man in public life should have a justifiable pride in the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens. 'What is written is written,' and my record as district attorney speaks for itself. I have at all times endeavored to do my full duty and to uphold and enforce the laws of my State without fear or favor.

"I will visit every nook and corner of my congressional district and discuss in detail with the voters of the district the issues engaging the attention of the people at this time. 'Taxes must be lowered. The ports on the Mississippi Coast—our gateway to the ocean—must be preserved and maintained. The American boy who fought the fight and kept the faith in the recent war and struck the final blow that preserved a Christian civilization must be given a square deal.'"

"If elected to Congress these are some of the things that I shall strive for. I make my people but one definite promise and that is to do my best for the highest and best interest of my country. Being a young man and knowing as I do that my heart beats in unison with the best interest of my country I feel that I can render you that kind of service in the American Congress that will be acceptable in your sight."

"I have always tried to be an American first and a DEMOCRAT next. I give allegiance to but one country, and that country is the United States of America. I give allegiance to but one party, and that party is the good old-fashioned Democratic party which embodies all the hopes, the ambitions and aspirations of my Dixie Land."

"With this brief announcement I submit my candidacy to the people of the Sixth Congressional District, subject to their will."

SPRINGHILL SCORES 2 STUDENTS OF S. S. C. GAMES FROM COLLEGE ENJOY PIER OUTINGS

Mobilians Play Saturday and Sunday Afternoon and in Each Game Are Victors—First Game Was More Exciting and the Better—Both Games Were Hard Fought by Both Sides—Scores 4-3 and 2-0—Lacked Necessary Punch.

On last Saturday and Sunday the St. Stanislaus baseball team lost two games to the fast Springhill nine, by the scores of 4 to 3 and 2 to 0. Both games were hard fought by both teams.

The first game seemed to be the more exciting of the two, Springhill scoring two runs in the first inning. Stanislaus was unable to score until the fifth inning, when by a walk and error and successful hitting they were able to tally three runs, giving them a lead of one run. This lead was held by them until the seventh inning, when Cleveland allowed the visitors to get two men on bases by a walk and two singles. Then Gilbert knocked the ball for what seemed to everyone to be a home run, but by the good throwing of Pettie and Fruge he was put out at the plate. This netted Springhill their last two runs, for Gex at this stage of the contest tightened up and held the visitors scoreless till the end. Although the Collegians at several points in the game had good chances to score, they were unable to furnish the necessary punch.

SUNDAY'S GAME.

The second game at first appeared to be an extraordinary affair, for both Cleveland and O'Brien seemed determined not to let a man reach first. Cleveland was the first to weaken, allowing the men that he had had at his mercy until this fatal point to secure a couple of hits and a walk, which netted two runs for them. The game remained at this stage for the remainder of the affair, neither team possessing the punch necessary to score.

RED CROSS GETTING QUICK RESPONSE TO APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Sufferers and Refugees From High Water in Louisiana and Mississippi Receiving Aid—But Situation Becoming More Serious From Day to Day and Additional Funds Are Needed.

MISSISSIPPI HAS 39 SPECIAL WORKERS IN DISTRICTS. The Problem of Food, Both for Refugees and Live Stock, Is Presenting Most Serious Problem—Thousands Were Actually Starving Before Red Cross Assistance.

Prompt response has been made to the appeal for $500,000 to extend relief work among 75,000 sufferers in the flood stricken areas of the Mississippi Valley, Harry L. Hopkins, manager of the Southern Division of the American Red Cross, announces to The Echo.

Not only in the South, where interest in the flood sufferers is naturally greatest, but in every part of the country, money is coming into local Red Cross chapters for relief among the destitute, homeless and hungry refugees in the stricken districts. Although the total amounts so far contributed have not yet been tabulated early indications are that the response to this appeal will be generous.

The Red Cross appeal was made through local chapters after the flood situation, the most serious in recent years, if not in history, became such that a fund of $100,000 set aside by the Red Cross for relief measures became inadequate to care for the refugees. All contributions are being applied to actual relief work as fast as it reaches national headquarters.

BE A CREDIT TO YOUR TOWN.

By Edgar A. Guest.
Be a credit to your town,
Help to build its fair renown;
Stoop to nothing that would shame
Either yours or its good name.
In what'er you find to do
Have your city proud of you.
Serve it in every way you can;
In your trials play the man;
Guard its honor as your own;
Keep its petty faults unknown;
Be a kind and genial host;
Love your town, but do not boast.
When you travel, east or west,
For your city live your best;
Prove by every act you do
That its citizens are true.
Let men learn to link your name
With the town from whence you came.
Cities grow not great by stone,
Or the wealth of lands they own.
All the fame they rise to win
Comes from men who dwell therein.
Human hearts shape all renown;
Be a credit to your town.

OPENING OF BAY-WAVELAND CLUB.

This evening will usher in the Bay-Waveland Yacht and Athletic Club, of Bay St. Louis. The occasion is to be marked with a formal reception and dance. Preparations for this event have been in progress for months, and tonight, the event of all events, the opening of the club, takes place. Anticipation has been running high. There will be no disappointment. The various committees, for the club is to be run on the committee plan—one working into another and all as a whole—have been working diligently and nothing has been left undone for tonight's affair. Its success is already a foregone conclusion, just as the club will prove. In fact, the B-W. Y. & A. C. will fill a long-felt want. It will occupy a niche of its own in the social affairs of our city. Its membership is already large—to that extent that its raison d'être is fixed.

The organization of such a club as the "Bay-Waveland" will represent was indeed a happy idea. It was evolved, first, by reason that the absence of such an organization as it represents was keenly felt and the void must be filled; secondly, the city and its population demanded it, and, thirdly, such men as those who head it as its executive officers were imbued with the idea and possessed with the initiative to make it a reality.

The club will prove unique. This will in an appreciable measure make it a success. It will include all the features of strictly a social club. In addition to this, the other features are yachting, golfing and athletics in the widest and truest sense of the word. The gymnasium is located in the rear of the club building. It is spacious and when equipped will prove a most attractive rendezvous for young and old alike. The front grounds will be used for lawn tennis court purposes; the rear grounds in season for basketball. The golf links, partially ready for use, are located on Dunbar avenue, away from the club building.

A very thoughtful feature of the membership is that it admits juveniles, youths and adult alike. Only the fees are graduated. In this wise the entire male contingent of a family may belong to the same club and enjoy its various features and profit by its advantages which are offered simply for the joining.

The Bay-Waveland Yacht and Athletic Club was first conceived during the early fall of last year. Such representative citizens as Messrs. E. J. Lephard, E. J. Lacoste, P. V. Lacoste, Bernard Shields, H. S. Renshaw, James Geary and others first mentioned the matter and became busy, and soon this number was augmented and the matter, with the assistance of other enthusiastic workers and friends of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, was soon afoot and its success undoubted. Through the assistance of that indefatigable worker, John Osolinach, the club building was soon acquired, and Messrs. Marshall, Rea and others had the project of owning the home well on the way. Messrs. Toça, Burns, Mathews, Webb, Perry, Schwartz and others unfailingly answered "Present" at the roll call for the first meetings during the trying times of organization, and they, with others, put their shoulders to the wheel, and the result and their reward will be the occasion for tonight.

The Echo wishes to congratulate the gentlemen forming the club on the result of their efforts, for it means more than mere words in line type metal and ink on paper can express. It is significant of much for the community. The gentlemen interested and the club as a whole have our best wishes for all and more than is necessary for its long life as a flourishing institution.

THAT NEW TREATY.

A pretty good indication that this old world is still a long way from peace was had a few weeks ago when it cropped out that Germany and Russia are bound by a secret treaty. While other nations were engaged in trying to frame some kind of organization that would make war akin to impossible, these two were striving to form an alliance by which they hoped to force their unjust claims upon the remainder of the world.

Echo readers who follow the trend of world events in the newspapers are not surprised at Russia. It has long been apparent that she will stoop to just anything so long as Lenin and Trotsky are cracking the whip. But it did come as a surprise to learn that still bleeding from a million wounds and burdened with a war debt she will be fifty years in paying, Germany should connive against the very nations that have tried to defend her since the world war. It is a funny kind of diplomacy that secretly steals behind the backs of those whose friendship she knows she must have to stab them through unholy alliances with a nation that can never hope to be of much benefit as a friend.

We are led to believe that Germany's statement that she regrets having been the cause of the world war is mere bluff. There is also enough evidence at hand to warrant the belief that the other nations, America included, can do no wiser thing than to keep an eye open for trouble from her direction, and that at most any moment.

WHAT A MAN OWES HIS TOWN.

What does a business man owe to the town in which his business is located? Besides the payment of taxes? Nothing, some close-fisted and tight-lipped business men will say. But they are not the kind of business men who make the biggest success, nor are they the kind of business men who get the most out of life.

The business men who make the biggest success and who get the most out of life are the kind who believe they owe something more to the town in which their business is located than the mere payment of taxes; who believe they owe it what they can contribute of active aid in solving the problems that confront their neighbors, either social, political or commercial.

It is for this very reason so many of our citizens, possibly not inclined to the social aspect of such organization, have joined the Bay-Waveland Club. They owe it to the town in which they live; they owe it to themselves, their family and their fellow-citizen on whose success and prosperity we all depend. It is no imposition on the business man to expect him to be identified with every improvement and every step forward for the benefit of the town. True, he must be supported, in turn, by the townspeople, and in Bay St. Louis we think this is generally the case. The day of patronizing mail order houses and sending away our good money to distant cities is fast passing.

Fortunately for the towns of this country there are many able business men who, disregarding the advice of the kind of business men who say that it may cause them to lose some trade if they take sides in city affairs, are devoting considerable of their time and their talents to doing something for the general good of their town. And the number of such men is growing. The time has passed, and Bay St. Louis business men know it, when a merchant loses trade by getting out and boosting for any improvement of the town needs, even though a few moss backs are opposed to such an improvement. And we sincerely hope and trust that such a time may never return, or that the town may have as business men in the future those who can't see any farther than the cash drawer.

WHY IS IT?

Why do many railroad companies advertise in all of the towns, through which the road runs? Why does the Ford Automobile Company advertise so extensively? Why does the Standard Oil Company keep advertising its wares? Why did the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company advertise so extensively from week to week in every newspaper in New Orleans, Mobile and along the Mississippi Gulf Coast through which territory it runs and is so well known? No one else makes a Ford car but Ford; no one else manufactures Standard Oil but the Standard Oil Company; no other railroad runs along the Gulf Coast but the Louisville and Nashville Company. Are not these three lines of business well known to the public?

If the population of this country did not grow any older and the young people were not continually filling up the places they left by their elders then there would be no need in spending a cent for advertising things that are already pretty well known. But those with something to sell realize that they must meet the ever-changing and the newer minds of the younger members of the country and create the impression among them also that has been created among their parents.

There is no standing still in business, and the Bay St. Louis man hasn't yet realized this is on the wrong road to success. You are either advancing, or you are sliding backward; the current of the public mind is changing with the glide of time.

How many people can you carry over your merchandising message to by word of mouth? How many can you speak to through print with just one sheet of copy? The object of all advertising is to speak to as many people as possible at as little expense as possible. And it has been proven beyond all question that a newspaper space is the best advertising medium in the world, when actual cost is considered.

GET IT FIRST.

Most worry through which quite a few people pass comes from spending their incomes before they get it. You buy this article and that, feeling sure that within a short time you will have the money to pay for it, and perhaps you might be able to pay if the money comes when and as you expect it. But there are unpleasant expenses you sometimes do not figure on ahead. The worry you may have at present is the result of creditors pressing their just claims, and it might have been avoided if you had used better judgment in waiting until you had the money to pay before you bought. Also, you would not make so many needless expenditures if you followed the plan of having the cash before you spend. Think it over, you who have been accustomed to buy before you have the money to pay, and answer yourself whether you got enough enjoyment to repay you out of the things you went in debt for and had to worry along to pay for.

ABOUT FLUES AND YOUR MONEY.

A St. Louis man saved his money in a chimney until he had $1,000; then it went up the flue, so to speak. Somebody stole it. But his folly was no greater than that of the Bay St. Louis citizen who, despite warnings, puts his savings into wildcat investments. These are less safe than chimneys for putting money into, since a thief may miss a chimney, there are so many of them. But invariably wildcat investments go up the flue. Had the man who saved his money in a chimney gone to a bank or legitimate broker, he would have been advised of safe investments whereby his money could earn interest for him. Before you put your money up a stock sharp's flue, see a banker and he will gladly tell you whether or not it is a safe thing to do. And you can seldom go wrong in taking the advice of one you are acquainted with.

Bay St. Louis and Hancock county have two live and substantial banks, where the heads are ever ready to advise. However, we do not think there is anyone in this locality who would put their money in a chimney or bury it. Our people are of an intelligence above that. Banks in Mississippi are now guaranteed by State law, and depositors do not lose their money, even though banks should fail. In short, you cannot lose your money.

Both the Hancock County Bank and the Merchants' Bank are ready to receive you and advise. Consult them. They will either accept your money on deposit, at interest, or if you rather buy bonds and make other investment they will assist you.

Don't put your money in a flue. See your local banker. If you have no banker, get one. It costs nothing.

THE WEEKLY'S FIELD.

In a big daily a few days ago we ran across this statement, which we want our readers to digest thoroughly:

"Not many country weeklies these days make any pretense of giving a complete or even a partial story of the world's news. There are other publications which can do this better." But there is no other publication, no matter how hard it may try, which can give the home news so satisfactorily as can the country weekly. When the big city paper tries it, it may have most of the facts and figures, but it can't present them in the intimate, personal way of the home editor who really knows the folks about whom he writes."

Do you want a better argument than that in favor of your home town paper, the paper that, as even the big city editor admits, prints the news of Bay St. Louis and community in the only satisfying manner? Think it over. You will concur with us, dear reader, The Echo as a weekly covers the local field pretty well and thoroughly. And the question arises: Are you a regular subscriber? Are you supporting your home paper in return? If a subscriber, do you keep your subscription paid? These are essentials for the continuation of a local weekly covering the local field.

JUST A MINUTE.

You Bay St. Louis people and others who like to read The Echo, but who borrow it from your neighbor each week, should return the favor. Why not subscribe a while and loan it to some neighbor who is not now taking it, so as to sort of even things up. It is true your neighbor is kindly and lets you have his paper, sometimes before he has finished reading it himself, but don't you know his family has remarked a hundred times about the way people borrow, and they have wondered why, if the paper is worth borrowing at all it isn't worth subscribing for?

We merely offer this as a suggestion—tell your neighbor that as soon as his time is out you will subscribe for a year, and then you will loan him the paper every week. Go through a whole year of having to hunt up the paper when he calls, of having to stop whatever you are doing to look for it, and spend twelve months, fifty-two weeks, keeping your temper when you afterwards remember there is something you want to look at again—and he can't find the paper you loaned him. Try that—and we'll bet you'll never again be guilty of borrowing, especially such a low-priced article as a newspaper.

PIGS.

Mail carriers on our rural routes have been taking a census of pigs, to find out how many there are in America, and we believe every Echo reader will be interested in the figures. Of course the two-legged kind will not be included. Uncle Sam believes they will find about 57,000,000 head of swine on the farms. Along with these are some 36,000,000 sheep, 19,000,000 horses, 5,400,000 mules, 24,000,000 milk cows and 41,000,000 other cattle. Civilization advances, but animals are still doing a valuable service for us. For that reason it is never out of place to treat them kindly, remembering that in relation to them from a financial standpoint many of us are not to be counted.

LEADER WILL RUN FOR HIGH OFFICE.

Youngest Man Ever Put at Lawmakers' Head Seeks Promotion.

Hattiesburg, Miss., May 17.—Mississippi politics will take on added interest with the authorized announcement of the candidacy of Sennett Conner, of Seminary, Covington county, for governor. Mr. Conner states that he will not be a factional candidate, that he will not wear the collar of any man or set of men, but will do his best to serve the whole people faithfully.

Speaker Sennett Conner, the youngest man ever elected speaker of the Mississippi House of Representatives, the first man to be elevated to that position on the first day of his legislative career, hung up another record by presiding over the House through five strenuous legislative sessions without a single appeal from the hundreds of rulings, he was called upon to make daily. Those sessions were torn by bitter factionalism, but Conner was elected as an independent, not declaring allegiance to either faction, and his record was made possible because he held the balances fairly and evenly between all factions.

Mr. Conner has served as chairman of various legislative committees appointed to study taxation and economic problems, and for the State Bond Improvement Commission, in which capacity he has visited all State institutions many times.

In the Legislature he has introduced bills requiring counties and municipalities to be operated on a cash basis, providing that all bond issues should be submitted to a vote of the people, providing how the people may, by petition, fix the amount of tax levies, establishing a bureau of markets for agricultural products, abolishing technicalities and delays in court procedure, providing for the recall of public officers, and many other constructive measures, several of which were enacted into law, and every one of which overwhelmingly passed the House of Representatives.

Speaking of his candidacy, Mr. Conner said:

"Answering the flood of inquiries and solicitations I am daily receiving, I want to say that I will be a candidate for governor, subject to the Democratic primaries of next year.

"I am opposed to a lengthy campaign, and to this good hour have never approached any person on the subject of making this race. I have discussed the matter only with those who have approached me. Every mail brings inquiries, and everywhere I go the people are asking me about it, and having reached a decision, I think it proper this statement be authorized.

"At the proper time I will carry to the people my views on public questions and conditions, and the principles for which I stand. As a Mississippiian, first by birth, later by preference, my interest primarily is in the welfare of our State. No person should aspire to the governorship for the gratification of a personal ambition.

"Bearing these truths in mind, I pledge the people now that my campaign will be so launched and conducted that no detriment to Mississippi will result from it, however it may terminate. I have no passion and prejudice to pour into the public ear. I have no doctrine of hate to preach for the impoverishment of the soul. I have no vilification for those who may oppose me. I have the call of a political clan to sound, and I will make no factional appeal for the stultification of conscience and the debasement of suffrage.

"I have not been appointed for office by any group of political leaders. I am on speaking and fighting terms with them all. My appeal will be an independent appeal to the judgment and conscience of my fellow citizens. If this does not win for me, I prefer to lose. If elected, I will not be embarrassed by any entangling alliances and political skeletons of the past. My only allegiance will be to the whole State and its entire people."

TRAVELING HAZARDS.

Interesting Figures Concerning Accidents While Traveling—Railroad Safest Places—Individuals Frequently at Fault.

The department of the traveling public has a greater influence on railway safety than is generally known, and the safety section of the American Railway Association in an appeal for the conservation of human life and limb gives some illuminating facts on the subject.

Of the 229 fatalities occurring in railway passenger travel during the year 1920, about two-thirds were cases in which the individual himself was in some way involved in the chain of circumstances. For example, 28 persons were killed by falling from coach steps, 18 by falling from moving trains, 64 by being struck or run over, and 10 met their death by deliberately jumping from trains while mentally deranged or to escape penal servitude. More startling still is the fact that 64 passengers were killed and 1,299 injured in getting on or off moving and stationary trains.

Once seated inside a railway car the traveler is in about the safest place in the world, and it is generally his own acts in gaining or leaving such position that create any substantial hazard. Notwithstanding the wonderful safety of passengers on the railways of the country, it is in the power of each of the billion travelers annually to make themselves still more safe by being careful.

BATHHOUSE BEING BUILT.

A. Boyett & Son, who conduct a restaurant business at Pass Christian, are now receiving lumber and other material for the erection of a large public bathhouse, and pier opposite their place of business in the Gulf. The plan of the wharf provides for twenty-two separate bathrooms. It is the intention of the builders to assure all excursionists who come here the pleasure of salt water bathing under favorable conditions.

"THE MILK ROUTE."

Interesting and Constructive Picture To Be Shown Monday Night at A. & G. Theatre—Might Prove of Profit to Bay St. Louis.

It's Ho! for new industries in the South. A picture made by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, appearing at the A. & G. Theatre, on May 22nd, shows one of them. This time it is milk, in dairies and creameries, the picture showing the developments in this line in the Selma, Ala., district. The expressive title is "The Milk Route."

That the dairy cow can turn a bankrupt farming section into one teeming with prosperity has been often proved and a good many people in the South have become convinced that dairying hereabouts has enormous possibilities.

There are pretty scenes of dairy herds, Jersey and Holstein, and of individual star dairy cattle, but most of the picture is devoted to showing the processes of making butter, ice cream and cheese.

The dairy industry, while young in the South, is of the utmost promise and this makes the picture one of special interest in this section. Of the fact that the business has in it the possibility of creating a new South, there is no doubt in the minds of competent judges.

This picture is one of the series being handled by the Southern Enterprises, Incorporated, the pictures being supplied by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, the Southern Railway, and the Atlanta and West Point, Georgia and Western of Alabama Railroads, and also the Southern Bell and Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Companies.

VICKSBURG DOCTOR CHOSEN PRESIDENT.

Jackson Selected for Next Meeting of Medical Society Over Gulfport and Meridian.

Browns Wells, Miss., May 10.—A musical program was given Tuesday night to the delight of the 300 or more doctors in attendance upon the State Medical Association here.

Wednesday the election of officers resulted, in the choice of Dr. S. W. Johnson, of Vicksburg, for president for the ensuing term. The retiring president, Dr. Henry Boswell, was elected delegate to the American Medical Association in Chicago.

A heated contest was engaged in over the election of the meeting place for next year, the entrants being Gulfport, Meridian and Jackson. Jackson was selected.

A scientific lecture was delivered before the convention by Dr. Stewart Roberts, of Atlanta.

Among the prominent visitors in attendance upon the session were Dr. Oscar Dowling, president of the Louisiana State Board of Health, and Dr. J. B. Elliott, of New Orleans.

The doctors expressed themselves as delighted with Browns Wells and its magnificent surroundings.

STATE SELLS TWO-YEAR NOTE ISSUE.

Memphis Bank Buys Lot Totalling $1,000,000 at 4-3-4 Per Cent.

Jackson, Miss., May 12.—The State Bond and Improvement Commission announces that at meetings in Oxford and Jackson it transacted the following business:

The contract for steam heating tunnels at the university was let to Lawrence, Nixon and Phillips, of Jackson, for $14,000.

The contract for the septic tank and other concrete work at the Tuberculosis Hospital at Sanatorium went to Lawrence, Nixon and Phillips at $6,900.

The contract for the refrigerating equipment at the new mess hall, A. and M. College, was let to the Memphis Engineering and Supply Co., for $4,037.

The contract to move the statue of Jefferson Davis from Confederate Park to the rotunda of the old capitol was let to the Columbus Marble Works, Columbus, for $1,240.

Bids will be considered at the meeting to be held June 5 for the overhauling of the Lyceum building at the university.

Elhanan Tart, superintendent of the Old Soldiers' Home at Beauvoir, stated that he had a considerable sum of money to turn over in response to his call on counties for funds with which to build a hospital, and will make a payment tomorrow.

Bids were opened on the proposed issue of $1,000,000 State notes, running two years from date of issuance, about June, and it was determined to sell the notes at auction, taking the lowest bid of par, accrued interest and premium of $1,330 as a starter. A number of banks were interested in the bidding, but the lot went to the Bank of Commerce and Trust Company at par, accrued interest and a premium of $3,525. The notes bear 4-3-4 per cent interest.

THESE COWS GET DAILY BATH, EACH HAS INDIVIDUAL TOWEL.

The model 100 per cent dairy has been found by Dr. Oscar Dowling, president of the State Board of Health.

All cows milked at this dairy are given a bath with individual towels every day and every precaution is taken to guard against disease or impurity.

Bossie's tail is securely fastened to one of her feet after being trimmed off evenly to prevent her slashing it about in the milk pail; cows are tested for disease periodically.

This dairy is located at Houma, but supplies 250 gallons of milk to New Orleans daily.

It is not only 100 per cent clean and free from germs, but is also a small philanthropy, in Terrebonne parish. It sells milk to approximately 2,500 of the population, at less than cost, Dr. Dowling said.

A sa result of this the infant mortality rate in the district has been reduced by almost 50 per cent, figures of the health board show.

Only the healthiest cows are milked at the place, Dr. Dowling said. Although the dairy contains nearly 300 cows, only 116 of them are milked. These have undergone the severest possible test for disease and found to be free.

They are washed each day and the milk bags are washed in individual pails, dried with individual cloths before being milked and the milk is received in individual pails.—Times-Picayune.

The Delta Cement Company, contractors building the sea wall for the city of Bay St. Louis, has begun in earnest the work of constructing this all-important project. A force of men and the necessary paraphernalia and material shows a busy scene just a few hundred feet north of the southern boundary of the city, where the Waveland line meets. Giant steel moulds are being put in position and the work of "pouring" the cement will begin the early part of the coming week. The wall is of the step type and 150 feet will be built at 127,249 FORDS SOLD IN APRIL.

Ford Retail Sales Hit New High Mark.

According to a report just received from the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, a daily average of 5,210 retail sales of Ford cars and trucks had been reached by the close of April in the United States alone.

Ford sales of cars and trucks for the month, including both domestic and foreign, totaled 127,249, thus establishing a new high record, exceeding the largest previous month, June, 1921, by 15,487.

The sale of Fordson tractors has also been steadily climbing. A total of 11,181 Fordsons were sold during April in the United States, a daily average of 469 having been reached by the end of the month. This gives the tractor a new high sales record, and shows 100 per cent increase over the best month in 1921.

The Ford company is enjoying a banner year in all departments. Output of Ford cars and trucks for the year, according to present estimates, will exceed 1,100,000, which represents a 10 per cent increase over 1921.

The Ford factory at Detroit is now operating at full capacity, having a force of more than 40,000 men on the payroll. The scheduled output for May will probably reach 135,000 cars and trucks, which will be applied against orders approximating 165,000.

Despite the attempt of the factory and the twenty-three assembling plants in the United States to produce a sufficient number of cars to meet the unusually heavy demand, it has been impossible for Ford dealers in most cases to make immediate deliveries.

GULFPORT TO GET HOSPITAL.

New Institution Under Langley Bill Recommended.

Washington, May 12.—Recommendations for the location of new veterans' hospitals under the appropriation of $17,000,000 authorized by the Langley bill are understood to have been submitted to President Harding by the Federal Board of Hospitalization.

The report of the Board is understood to favor purchase of a hospital in Memphis, Tenn., as well as the establishment of a new institution at Gulfport, Miss.

Only Cost Was Nails to Man Who Built His Own Home.

Up in Tate county a thrifty citizen named Job built his own home, expending only $2.12 for the nails necessary.

"It's all talk about the high cost of building a house being too high," was the statement of Job Stewart, of Senatobia.

Job cut and saved every piece of timber that was used in the construction of his home, making even the boards to cover it.

He burned the brick for the chimney near where the house is built. And Job says that it is a much better house than some of the new veneer models.

Job's house is built of solid oak and poplar and he says he expects his grandchildren to occupy it as a home.—Dispatch.

VALUE OF ADS BROUGHT OUT IN SUIT AGAINST NEWS-PAPER.

What is the value of newspaper advertising? Is it worth the money it costs? Does it really bring definite tangible results that can be measured in terms of dollars and cents?

All of these questions seem to be answered in the allegation of an Oklahoma grocer who is suing his local newspaper for omitting from an issue, because the copy was lost in the newspaper office, an advertisement accepted from him.

Because the advertisement failed to appear, the bill of complaint states, the grocer's sales on that day fell off "at least $500," which amount he seeks to recover.

The plaintiff claims that his newspaper advertising has caused his sales to increase about $500 a day above normal.

ROBERTSON SUES INSURANCE FIRMS.

Liability Denied as Big Sum in Premium Taxes is Sought by Revenue Agent.

Jackson, Miss., May 15.—Stokes V. Robertson has filed suit against the Mississippi Fire Insurance Company for $32,057.26, the fidelity for $4,464.57, the Hawkeye Security for $370.66, the Home for $2,358.30, the National Life and Accident for $7,139.52, the Omaha Liberty for $1,061.72, the American for $2,046.26, and the Palmetto for $17,105.82.

The revenue agent alleges non-payment of premium taxes for the year ending last February, but the companies deny liability on the ground that they did not begin business in Mississippi until after the 1st of February, 1921.

A time before the moulds are removed and placed in successive position. The wall will be about 6 feet high in this locality and the street "filled" in and built to a similar height.

I'm sure nuts about you now;
My bean has just gone loco,
Thinkin' o' yer powdered brow.
By Craps, I b'lieve I'm gettin' fishy,
I'm runnin' all to scales;
For yer my lil' winner-wishy,
An' my love just runs in bales.

I can hear th' jazzy jingle, Fanny,
I can see ye dippin' by—
But th' think wat gits my nanny,
Is maybe ye got a nuther guy.
If I knowed ye had a feller,
I'd hook my six-gun in her berth,
An' make th' trail look yellor,
Where he'd be leavin' Mother Earth.

I'd hang his hide out where th' moon
Could tan it nice an' green;
An' on his gizzard play a tune,
While I picked his bones right clean.

When I'd get thru, I'd turn to you,
An' we'd jazz it to a stan'
An' you'd be proud to sing out loud:
Hot Dog, just watch my man!

Swat the fly, but don't forget the knocker. One is as deadly as the other.

MANDEVILLE SHIPS BEANS.

Farmers Plan to Grow Other Crops for Market.

Less than three months ago Mandeville formed the first truck growers' association in its history. The idea which prevailed at first was to try it out with beans. Farmers are planning for a full quota of crops this fall and winter, among which will be cabbage, beets, beans, onions, carrots and strawberries. The first shipment of beans last Saturday arrived at the markets in fine condition and sold at good figures. That shipment contained 174 hampers of beans. Later another was made of ninety-one hampers and another shipment will go out next Saturday, all to Northern markets. W. T. Coffee, president of the association, shipped the largest number of hampers, twenty-nine in the first shipment. Henry Vautrain, formerly in the produce shipping business in New Orleans, now a resident of Mandeville, has assisted the Mandeville farmers.

—Coach Foster Commagere, of St. Stanislaus College, has been in New Orleans for some time, a patient at Touro Infirmary, suffering from a number of carbuncles and other complicated ailments. He was operated on for appendicitis recently, and, getting up and out too early, it is thought, caused a relapse. However, as soon as his condition will permit he will undergo another operation in order to probe a trouble said to exist. Mr. Power was formerly the head of the Power Drug Company, of Bay St. Louis, and is well and widely known, and his serious illness is noted with regret.

Work on Seawall Well Started.

After much difficulty in getting started, the work of constructing the Bay St. Louis seawall has started in earnest. The preliminary work is now succeeded by the process of "pouring" the concrete into the vast steel forms, step-shaped. These forms are manufactured of steel, at Pittsburgh, and are leased only to this company during the construction, at a rental of $6,000. Much difficulty is encountered with quicksand beds. The work of "pouring" begun, the building of the wall ought to now continue without interruption unless some unforeseen adverse forces appear. Mayor Webb is a frequent visitor to the scene, giving it the official "once-over."

Bay Hotel a Busy Scene.

While there is building activity on every side in Bay St. Louis, at no place is there a busier and more active scene than at the Bay Hotel, formerly the Pickwick. A force of painters are transforming the old building into another place, with a new dress of paint and appropriate trimmings; plumbers and carpenters have their share of the work as well, and in all the place is a busy one, in anticipation of catering to the better and greater comforts of the guests and with a view of entertaining a greater number. Already the place has been transformed appreciably, and soon, in its attractive settings of lawns, trees and gardens, this beauty spot will be a "thing of joy and beauty." The arrivals at the Bay Hotel for the past week appear elsewhere in The Echo, and will appear regularly.

A Meeting Called for Monday Night.

A meeting of the citizens of Bay St. Louis has been called at the courthouse, for Monday night, when the matter of getting a three-day and night Chautauqua for Bay St. Louis during the early part of next month will be discussed. A representative of the Redpath Chautauqua, one of the best in the country, will be present and discuss the matter. It will be put up for the consideration of the town, and since the matter is largely an educational as well as one of entertainment it appears it ought to appeal to our best people and the matter given consideration. New Pavilion at Bay Cafe Opens.

Wednesday night witnessed the formal opening of the new dance and refreshment pavilion built in the rear of the Bay Cafe by its enterprising proprietor, E. Van Whitfield. There was a large attendance and in time the guests danced until the midnight hour.

The pavilion is large and has a beautiful dance floor. It is built in the rear and attached to the Bay Cafe, directly "over the waves" and will form a popular retreat for the public this summer. Bay St. Louis has been in need of such a resort, and conducted in the manner as Mr. Whitfield will, it will easily prove popular and desirable. The complaint has been frequently made, Bay St. Louis has insufficient attractions for the entertainment of young people, visiting and local, during the summer, and the Bay Cafe Pavilion will help to fill this want and thus eliminate the complaint.

T. E. Keller, county superintendent of education for Hancock, and Leon McCluer, city superintendent of education for Bay St. Louis, have returned from Hattiesburg, where they attended the annual convention of district superintendents of education for South Mississippi. BEAUTIFUL PARTY FOR BAY HIGH GRADUATES.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Firsching entertained in compliment to Young Ladies and Gentlemen of Class '22.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Firsching were host and hostess Saturday night to a beautiful party in compliment to the members of the graduating class '22 of the Bay High School. This entertainment was the last of quite a series given to the class, and while it was the last it was by no means the least. But, on the contrary, was one of the larger and proved most delightful.

The affair was given at the hospitable home of the Firschings, where the latch string is ever on the outside. The pass words of the inner guards are "Welcome," "Come In" and "Stay as Long as You Like." Mrs. Firsching was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Josie Mayor and Miss Wilmer Liburn, who, with their most gracious hostess, made the affair the success it was.

The dining room was decorated for the occasion in the class colors of purple and gold, and on every side the colors predominated in tasty application and effective results. The center piece of the table was a large cake iced with the class colors and in the inscription was "Class '22." In addition to the members of the class there was a representative of class '20, class '21 and also of next year's. This was quite an original idea and added to the attendance and pleasure of the evening. A menu of most delectable refreshments was served, and interspersed with toasts and "rising remarks" by the guests from time to time and the telling of many incidents of the class room, etc., added largely to the pleasures.

Probably a Kiwanis Club for Bay St. Louis.

George R. Rea is seriously contemplating the calling of a meeting of business men and others of Bay St. Louis in the immediate future for the organization of a Kiwanis Club for Bay St. Louis, and already has given the matter consideration and study. While in New York a few weeks ago he entered into the matter at length with representatives of this national booster's organization with a view of Bay St. Louis procuring a local charter. He is enthusiastic over the proposition and already has good backing. In the meantime ask him about the Kiwanis and help boost the project along. Of course, if you are a drone (if there are any in Bay St. Louis) don't ask. Mum is the word.
